

NEWS OF THE WEEK

Man and Wife Murdered—Maniac Kills Children—Wireless Telephone a Success—Great Singer Dead.

MAN AND WIFE MURDERED:—Arthur Neldlander and his wife of Columbus, O., were found dead Sunday morning. The man in a room over his grocery store and the woman in the street near the store. The man was shot thru the body and cut twice with a knife. The woman was shot and stabbed in the heart. A man has been arrested for the crime but the police are by no means sure that he is the fellow.

MANIAC KILLS CHILDREN:—H. J. Duffing, 69 years of age, driven insane by religious mania killed his son and daughter in Los Angeles, Cal. The night before the crime was committed having gone to a religious meeting and worked himself into a frenzy, he went to the home of his son. Finding him asleep he cut his head off with an ax, then left for the home of his wife and daughter, and crushed the skull of the latter. He then went to the street and cut his own throat with a razor.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE SUCCESS:—Saturday Lieuts. Colin, Peance and Merfeler the inventors of the wireless telephone apparatus made a successful experiment with their instrument. They communicated in France a distance of 310 miles. The words were faint, but could be distinguished and the officers are confident that they can make some improvements, and be able to converse distinctly for 600 or 700 miles. This is a great improvement over the other telephone and telegraph methods.

GREAT SINGER DEAD:—Ira D. Sankey, the singing evangelist, died at his home in Brooklyn. Mr. Sankey was 68 years old. He achieved great fame as an evangelist in a series of religious tours in this country and Europe with the late Dwight L. Moody.

A NEW BUSINESS FIRM

A new business firm has made its appearance in Berea and is bidding for patronage with every promise of giving satisfactory service. It is known as G. D. Holliday and Co., the other partner preferring to keep his name secret for the time being. The firm has taken over the coal and ice business given up by J. W. Stephens when he became cashier of the Berea Bank & Trust Co., and will add to it a line of feed. A large new storehouse will be built as soon as possible and the firm hopes to be in position to handle all business satisfactorily within a few weeks. It will deal in ice, in all kinds of domestic coal, and in all kinds of feed and earnestly solicits the patronage and support of the community.

POLITICAL NOTES

Our State Politics—Taft to Fish—Sherman Notified.

Many Democrats are suggesting plans of getting all the Democratic voters to the polls this coming election and thereby pile a large majority for Bryan and Kern. While on the other hand, the Republicans are backing a great deal on the victory made by Gov. Willson last fall. Some of the politicians figure that Bryan's majority in the State will run up to 20,000 or 40,000. The scheme devised by some Democratic politicians is to have the State Central Committee and all the subordinate committees call for a primary election to be held November 3, the regular election day. The purpose will be to name all the county officers and Circuit and Appellate Judges. And by having a man of his choice as a candidate, the voter will support the whole Democratic ticket together with his special candidate. With the Democrats counting on their unity to carry them to victory and the Republicans reflecting on the victory of last year as an indication of success this fall, they will both land hard into the campaign work this week. It is evident that the Republicans will have the most money in Kentucky the coming campaign, but the Democrats are working hard among the farmers and other private citizens for donations on a small scale. But to look at the situation from a nonpartisan standpoint one must be inclined to believe that the tobacco troubles in the State are going to cut quite a figure in the national election. There are conservative men in both parties who say that there are a number of Republican tobacco growers who are bitterly opposed to Governor Willson's use of the militia, and on the other hand there are admirers of Gov. Willson and his policies and say they will vote for another Republican who will carry out these policies.

John D. Wakefield says, "One Democrat, formerly a potent factor in Kentucky politics said, 'Take my word for it, there are thousands of voters in Kentucky who have lost sight of Bryan and Taft both, and will vote for the party whose representatives think as they think about the tobacco war. Tobacco growers like the concerns of the East, and the monopolies of the country will vote for the man nearest to his belief. Politics is a thing of minor importance when compared with personal interests and will be treated so. When feeling between men runs so high that they turn each others' backs, and threaten each others' lives and families are disrupted then you may judge that the difference will be made a vital issue and will speak louder than party lines. Though it is evident that the Democrats will have the advantage in Kentucky yet there will be Democrats in the State who never voted the Republican ticket who will vote it this time on account of the tobacco troubles."

TAFT TO FISH:—Candidate Taft and party will leave Hot Springs, Friday, August 28, for a week's fishing in Lake Erie. Then he will go to Cincinnati to remain until after the election. Following his usual custom Mr. Taft transacted no business nor held any political conferences Sunday. Mr. Taft's vacation is a busy one.

PRESIDENT FROST'S INVITATION

To All Readers of THE CITIZEN:

My Dear Friends:—

I have begged space on the front page of THE CITIZEN to say a few things about my desire to see a large number of young people at Berea on the 16th of September.

I do not desire them to come for any selfish reason of my own, but solely and only for their good, and the good of their families, and the good of the country.

And I do not wish to draw students away from any other schools, except that there are some older boys and girls in the district schools who are getting little good there, and taking up the teacher's time that should be given to the younger ones. By the time boys and girls are fifteen years old they should leave the district school and start in at some larger institution. Any young person who has started in at any good Academy or so-called college I advise to stay there, and finish a course, and then come to Berea.

But I am speaking now to the young men and young ladies who have not been interested in education, or have not expected to get any further education for themselves this fall.

You would be interested if you would spend one week in Berea! Ask any of our students, and they will tell you that their first term in Berea did them about as much good as they could hope to get from a journey around the world! See what Berea has done for hundreds and hundreds of young people, some of whom came from distant states. You ought to be one of this great company of young people who are going to make something of themselves in the world. Why should you drift along and never find out what there is in your own head, and what there is in education?

The time to do this is now. There will never be a better time to begin—there never will be another time so good as this. You can start now if you will, but a hundred things may soon happen which will forever snatch away your chance for further education.

Almost every day we have letters from people who are sorry, and angry with themselves, because they did not start in for an education when they had the chance. You must not join the company of these people of vain regrets. Before starting a journey or a day's work look over the ground and grind your ax—that is education!

All the objections and difficulties will melt away if you simply make up your mind to start.

I have worked and prayed for the boys and girls of our mountains for sixteen years. I have visited the mountains of Scotland and Switzerland to find out the best things they have there. I have studied the best schools of America and the Old World across the sea, so as to gather all that was best and put it into Berea. President Roosevelt, Andrew Carnegie, and America's best people have approved my plans and helped carry them out in our new buildings and courses of study. And a great army of young men and young ladies have come to us, not only from the mountains of Kentucky, but from the Virginias, Tennessee, and North Carolina. These young people, with the training Berea gives them, are going to make of our mountain region one of the best home lands in the world.

We shall have a great crowd on the 16th of September, but my heart is anxious for the boys and girls who will be left out, and I am trying to invite them before it is too late! Read Berea's advertisement in another part of this paper, and make up your mind that you will not be left out!

I am a friend and well-wisher to every mountain home.

Wm. Goodell Frost.

GO TO THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

During this time of year Farmers' Institutes costing a couple of hundred dollars apiece, are being held under the management of the State in all the counties. In some parts of the State these institutes are well attended and the farmers get great benefit from them, but around here it seems that hardly anyone thinks it worth while to go, tho this is just the place where most can be learned and where farmers could get the most profit out of the lectures.

The chief argument heard against going to the institutes is that the lecturers "are only out for the money". That is probably true, but it does not make what they have to tell any the less valuable. The men are picked out because of their knowledge of the subjects they talk about, and the more they know the more money they get. So the men that are talking for the most money are the ones best worth hearing.

No one of us knows so much that he cannot learn more, and there is no one so lowly that he cannot teach any of us something. So it would be worth while for a farmer to listen to the talk of any one that knew anything about farming, and it is especially worth his while to hear what these experts have to say. At the institutes, too, he will get for nothing the benefit of the experience of other men in the county.

There is no one thing in which special learning pays better than in farming, and there is nothing which most men do more poorly. One farmer that began going to the institutes a few years ago, now finds that by following the advice of the lecturers he can raise twice as large crops with less labor, altho he is now an old man. His learning from the institutes has made up for his declining strength, and given him an advantage over younger men, besides.

Some men say that they cannot afford the time to go to the institutes. No one would refuse to go if he were to be paid ten dollars hard cash for each day he attended, and yet there is hardly a farmer in the country who could not get a good deal more than ten dollars worth out of each day's session. It is a place where the state is giving something for nothing, and every man that is trying to make the best of himself and his farm will find it will pay him mightily to go. Try it once and see.

speeches ever made by a candidate of so high an office, accepted the nomination for the Vice-presidency Tuesday at Ulica, N. Y. Mr. Sherman followed directly after Mr. Taft by pledging his allegiance to the policies of President Roosevelt.

GO TO BERE, COLLEGE

Berea College, with all its advantages and opportunities for young men and women, will open for another year on September 16. What good will it do you or your son or daughter? Will you or will they be there to take advantage of the opportunities?

Within the next year hundreds of young people will get at Berea the start toward a better and more useful life. Will you or your son or daughter be among them? Hundreds of young people will share in the benefits of the thousands of dollars spent every year for the best teaching in Kentucky. Will you or your son or daughter? A year from now hundreds of young people will have taken a long step in the direction of better living, and better preparation for life, while other thousands will have stood still, or at the most, made a few dollars, making a small gain in money instead of a large gain in character. In which class will you or your son or daughter be? Berea is the best school for the mountain boy or girl. Thousands of dollars have been spent in buildings and equipment. Thousands more are spent every year for teachers. There is more for you than in any other school and yet you can get at it for a smaller price. Be sure to read the advertisement on page three and think well on the subject, for a year wasted can never be made up, and the time to get ready to start for this year's schooling is right now. The school will open almost before you realize it.

W. O. BRADLEY—Murdered in Lexington—New Capitol—Mob at Paducah.

W. O. BRADLEY:—Senator W. O. Bradley is one of the six attorneys engaged to defend Beech Hargis for the murder of his father in Breathitt County. Six leading attorneys will plead for the life of young Hargis, whose trial is set for August 24. It is understood that the Commonwealth and the defense will answer ready and the trial will be carried out.

MURDERED IN LEXINGTON:—One of the most mysterious crimes ever committed in Lexington, took place Sunday morning before day. The body of Mr. Stephen A. Diesback, owner of Prince Tiny Mite, the smallest horse in the world, was found stiff on his cot in the show tent. Mr. Diesback was known to have had $250 on his person. Mrs. Diesback at Watsontown, Pa. has been notified of her husband's death and the body is in the undertaking establishment awaiting her orders. Fellowshowmen speak very highly of the murdered man and everyone hoped the murderer would be found.

NEW CAPITOL:—The new Capitol at Frankfort will not be ready by September as was the plan. It will be six months before the power plant or heating apparatus can be installed. And it is now evident that the State officials must wait until next summer before they can occupy the handsome capitol.

MOB AT PADUCAH:—A mob of one hundred men went to the county jail at Paducah Monday morning and demanded Will Hornsby, a negro, accused of an attempt to assault on twelve year old Nita Powell. The jailer said that Hornsby was not there and offered to let them search but they did not and went away. The negro broke into the bedroom Sunday morning while the girl and her little brother were asleep and she being awakened, screamed so violently that her father came to her rescue. The negro jumped thru the window and escaped, but was found hiding in an alley.

ASYLUMS EXAMINED:—M. H. Thatcher, State Inspector and Examiner, has just completed his examination of the three insane asylums of Kentucky. Adequate water supply is the most serious defect at Lake-land. Mr. Thatcher's report will cover condition, expenditures and discipline of the institutions.

SHOT TO DEATH:—A man named Burgess was shot and killed Sunday morning at Ford, Ky., a little town in Clark County and on the Kentucky River. Burgess was shot three times by a man named Winburn. Both men were residents of Ford.

TAYLOR STORY FALSE:—Gov. Willson denies emphatically that he has any intention of notifying W. S. Taylor after the election in November.
